

Multifamily Rental Housing (MRH)

CERTIFIED BUILDING INSPECTOR TRAINING

The City of Sandy Springs has recently adopted a new Multifamily Rental Housing ordinance that consolidates all the requirements into a single ordinance to simplify the annual inspection process. One of the more significant changes from the old ordinance is that 100% of the MRH units are now required to be inspected each year. In addition to the frequency of inspections, the City is standardizing the inspection reporting to be more consistent among the various Certified Building Inspectors (CBI) and to be able to track and trend the various statistical data that result from these inspections.

Among the changes, there are also minimum qualifications to be a CBI in Sandy Springs and an annual certification course that discusses the City's inspection requirements. All Certified Building Inspectors are required to attend this annual certification class.
